FACT CRAFT JUNE 11–NOVEMBER 18

Fact Craft is a collaborative, cross-disciplinary program series that examines the ways “facts” are constructed, crafted, presented and disseminated. Each program invites a guest to facilitate a group action that intervenes in, questions, or subverts systems of ‘fact craft’ across disciplines. These actions address oppressive cultural systems by generating alternatives and jamming existing ones.

Fact Craft programming includes workshops, dialogues, Second Sunday interventions, and Study Hall hours. During Study Hall, interested participants can informally meet and collaborate on their own actions and will have access to related resources. The series will culminate on November 18, 2017 with a celebratory public event that includes presentations of participant projects.
